

Alongside the Waterline tapestry exhibition, Anna and Irene of Nearly Wild Weaving are organising a series of tapestry weaving workshops at Gairloch Museum, Gairloch, Scotland, IV21 2BH <https://www.gairlochmuseum.org/>.

	WEAVE THE VIEW Explore nature and the countryside through tapestry weaving One day workshops: Monday 10th; Friday 14th; Saturday 15th July 10am – 4.30pm. £70 Enjoy some creative time observing the colours, textures and shapes of nature, then use the age-old technique of tapestry weaving to create your own small piece of woven art. Suitable for beginners as well as those who have woven before, we will supply all materials and equipment and help you to design and complete a small tapestry to take home with you.
WEAVING WATER Discover different ways to capture water in woven tapestry. 2 or 3 days: Tuesday 11th; Wednesday 12th; optional Thursday 13th July 2023 10am – 4.30pm. 2 days £140. 3 days £205. We will explore tapestry weaving techniques that help us to capture the endless changes in colour and the ever-present movement of water in a range of forms, taking our inspiration from observing the watery landscapes around us and the tapestries in the Waterline exhibition. Suitable for those with some experience of tapestry weaving.

LANDSCAPES OF THE HEART

A tapestry weaving masterclass with Joan Baxter

21st – 25th August. £250

Inspired by the landscapes and the rich Celtic/Norse heritage of the Scottish Highlands, this masterclass aims to explore the immediate surroundings of Gairloch as design sources for a tapestry. Joan will share some of the ways we can research and translate into tapestry our responses to the landscapes and the stories that inspire us. Suitable for intermediate / advanced tapestry weavers.
